

ADA HEGERBERG

Ada Hegerberg is one of the most formidable women footballers. She was the first ever recipient of the Ballon d'Or Feminin for her achievements with Lyon (football team). She is the winner of four Women Champions League titles, five Division 1 Feminine trophies and three Coupe de France awards!

Alongside all of these achievements, Ada was very vocal and passionate about fighting for equality in the women's game. She chose not to represent Norway in the 2019 World Cup as she wanted to take a stand against her country's handling of women's football. She felt that she and her teammates were treated unfairly compared to the men. She also felt as though the women's game was not valued or taken seriously. Ada Hegerberg stood up for what she believed to be right, and is an inspiration to us all today.

Ada Hegerberg said, 'When I was young, I had idols who inspired me to go for my dreams, and I just want to give the same back.'
