ANTI-BULLYING

Bullying is usually defined as repeated behaviour intended to hurt someone emotionally or physically. Bullying can take many forms and platforms: physical bullying, verbal bullying, social bullying, cyberbullying, homophobic bullying, bullying due to your race or gender, etc. There is no room for any type of bullying or harassment, anywhere.

RESPECT AND TOLERANCE

Two of the British values (Respect and Tolerance) include understanding that we do not all share the same beliefs and values. Respecting the values, ideas and beliefs of others whilst not imposing our own opinions and beliefs on others is important. We have to respect each other's difference and behave in a way which does not hurt or upset others.

THE EFFECTS OF BULLYING

Bullying influences everybody who is a part of it, whether it is a bully, victim, or bystander. The effects can be long-term or short-term and for a victim it will presumably have a negative impact on their mental health. Sometimes people are bullied, but they remain silent out of fear. This can make it worse for the victim.

Victims of bullying or bystanders must speak up. Speaking to a teacher, parent or anyone else who can make a difference will help resolve the problem. It could also help the bully to become a better person. Everyone must unite against bullying as this will create a happier and safer environment in school and society.
